

Auto Rally School

The most fun way to get into rallying

You've seen it on TV, and now you want to do it too? Here's the way to start rallying!

For fun and safety, preparation is essential. Get going the right way; and join us!

This Rally School will teach you about the different kinds of events, then concentrate on giving you all the details you will need to compete and enjoy TSD (Time-Speed-Distance) navigational rallying. TSD rallies are NOT a high speed racing type event, but perfect to enhance and test your driving and navigational skills, and no special modifications are needed to your car. This course will cover the basics for any newcomer interested in this sport. The topics to be covered include the following: Event Preparation, Crew Preparation, Car Preparation, Calculations, Day of the Event Procedures -- before -- during--after. We will include two sample novice gravel rallies. Our course structure is flexible, allowing plenty of time for questions, examples, and hands-on practice with experienced rallyists.

Materials you need to bring to the course: pen, notepad, highlighter, calculator (not solar powered), digital watch, automobile-one okay for a team of two.
